STAND AND DELIVER.

Two Fruitless Attempts at Robbe Within Two Hours Time.

A couple of attempts to rob were made last night—one on the highway and the other a stand-and-deliver call made on a citizen in his own house. The first case was reported by Mr. Ringrose, a workman at one of the cotton-seed pil mills, who resides on the corner of Manassas street and the old Raleigh road, who states that while returning home from his work last evening, when on the corner of Dunlap street and old Raleigh road he was halted by two men, who threatened his life with pistols, demanding what money he had on his person. He obeyed from his work last evening, when on the corner of Dunlap street and old Raleigh road he was halted by two men, who threat-ened his life with pistols, demanding what money he had on his person. He obeyed their commands to stop, but told them he had no money. They would not believe his statement, but satisfied themselves by searching him, one holding a pistol to pockets. When they discovered they had made a fruitless haul, they compelled him to retrace his steps, and when he had gotten away so as not to give them pursuit, they turned and went in another direction. Mr. Ringrose reported the case at the station-house, but said that, owing to the darkness of the locality, he was unable to give any description by which they could be identified. Under these circumstances it was but a waste of time to report it to the police.

The second attempt occurred about two hours afterward at the grocery store of Mr. Hipple, at the corner of Market and Fourth streets. Two men entered the grocery about 8 o'clock last night, there being no one in the front part of the store but Mr. Hipple. The strangers asked for some apples, and Mr. Hipple went to a barrel at the end of the counter, stooped down to pick up the apples, and when he raised up again the two men were confronting him with drawn pistols. They ordered him to keep quiet at the peril of his life, and deliver up to them all the money he had in the house. Mrs. Hipple, who was standing unobserved the men threatening her husband, and screamed at the top of her voice, which for small rate of increase of receipts in proportion to the increase of traffic was due to the fact that the average rate per ton charged on these thirteen roads fell from 17.7 cents per ton per mile in 1873, to 10.7 cents per ton per mile in 1880, a decrease of 39.5 per cent. The Commissioner of Exports is recommended for the investigation of the subject of railroad transportation.

See a Minister to Pekin, who is about to return tia Europe, delivered the about to return tia Europe, delivered the about to return tia Europe, delivered the amount attracted the attention of both men, thus giving Mr. Hipple the opportunity to grasp a pistol which lay on a shelf under the counter within reach. He got the drop on the would-be robbers, and they fled from the store, one of them firing back into the house without the influence of Mrs. Howard, Foreign medicines are now, in consequence, Foreign medicines are now, in consequence, the excitement of the moment, he did not impress his memory with the appearance of the men or their clothing, and could give the police in identifying them. It is stated that Kelotte is threatened with paralysis, and Boyten has lost the sight of one eye.

The elaborate intricacies of the stage work, the elegant scenic settings requiring so much time to accomplish, caused some complaint, which was more than compensated for in the splendid pictures presented and the growing interest in the play. The Cornican, like all the plays in the repertoirs of the Hoey and Hardie Combinaton, is one in which every player has weak its preference. player has work to perform-every one an people whose talents and dramatic abilities are especially adapted to the characters in which they are cast.
